

Dataset Description for Solutions to the Productivity of Maize Farmers in Zambia

The attached dataset contains information that was collected as part of a LASER PULSE-funded project in Zambia. The goal of the project was to reduce food insecurity in Zambia by increasing the productivity of maize farmers in the country. Various combinations of Salvation Farming Solutions methods were applied to plots. The effects of the treatments on the germination rates and yields were measured.